

This year, we are going to add another vehicle to our historical series of wagons from Rhaetian Railway. In 2011 we will be able to produce the BC 110 as a new construction. This item is built from German Silver, the roof gets it's typical ventilators and electrical sockets, completed with cast parts from brass.

Last years new item C 114 is the base for this nice little wagon: a MOW-wagon, lettered as X 9079, with two closed windows on one side.

The first specimen has the wrong ventilators and sockets on the rooftop, which will be correct with the rtr-item.

Last year, we announced some items as a project - just an idea, not really ready at that moment. Meanwhile, the project of the Kp-w 7501 has improved and we think, that it will be finished during this year. We are still puzzling over the correct RhB-container for waste in red, with white lettering. There will be several numbers available, so you can collect a nice little train.

The yellow gudgeons for container-safety will be replaced in the final series by a cast part.

Even this year, we do have some ideas, some projects, which could be realised, if our clients are interested in them.

One of these ideas is the snow-plough shown on the photo below. The item has no motor, as prototype has none too, and will be pushed by a snow-train.

For the first time, this item will be from plastics, with some extra brass parts for the detailing. Three different variations would be possible: in the former grey livery, in orange or in rusty-red painting. Three numbers could be done, from X 9102 to X 9104. The shown X 9103 is placed in this delivery at Samedan-station at the end of the tracks.

The above shown tractor of Bernina-line of RhB is a project, too. We made some tests with the superstructure and the detailing of the roof. A new pantograph is placed on it's top.

All projects will be done with enough demand only. If you are interested in them, please send us a fax or a email. Perhaps these projects will be finished then in the next future. Please have a look at our web-site, too.

Prices and times for delivery are not known at this moment.
